Meeting Hosts Needed	4

What a unique opportunity members and guests have to hear first-hand from people who are long-time residents of Glendale.

Karl Dennison and Mary Morgan Vandever will share with the audience their personal stories and recollections of growing up and living in Glendale. These two individuals experienced the changing character, culture and development of Glendale over the years.

So, if you are looking for gripping, on the edge of your seats, true life stories that will keep your attention then this is the event for you. Join the membership and guests on MONDAY, FEBRUARY 22, 2016 at 7:00 PM at MANISTEE RANCH for an enchanting and historical evening. Bring a friend and encourage them to join the Society. Refreshments will be served.

WHERE DID THAT NAME COME FROM?

For decades historians have tried to solve the mystery of why this community was named Glendale without any consensus. Mr. W.J. Murphy, who built the Arizona Canal in 1883-1885 and in order to pay debts on the canal, sold land south of the canal referring to the area as "Glendale".

The name, is English and a boy's name. It means "wooded valley" or "glen". In 1893, Arizona Republican Columbian Edition ran an ad by B.A. Hadsell, referred to as founder of the colony, lauded the Glendale Temperance Colony of Quakers, Dunkards, Menonites, River Brethren and other temperance people with all deeds forever prohibiting the manufacturing or sale of intoxicating liquors. Until 1890 the area was simply referred to in writings as "near Alhambra", near Peoria, Arizona or northwest Phoenix and sometimes called Westfield. After the Arizona Canal was completed Laura and W.J. Murphy in their "love" letters referred to their "Glendale Castle". Alas, the mystery will continue to perplex historians.

*Ron Short, President
Board of Directors*

The most recent repairs of installing a new ceiling in the Manistee Ranch house kitchen, new step in front, new rear porch boards, repaired doors and screens, woodpecker holes and broken window is nearing completion and the Board thanks Buzz Sands for his generous contribution to cover the cost of these repairs.

Doug Rentschier owner of Anything for Money, contractors, is doing the work on the house. The Board approved a budget for 2016, which is briefly explained in another article. The Board will be meeting with city staff in January 2016 but no later than February 2, 2016 to review the proposed agreement for Society use of Sahuaro Ranch.

The next step would be City Council workshop for discussion and direction to staff. The agreement would then be placed on City Council meeting agenda for formal action. It may be necessary for the Board to revisit and revise the 2016 budget to reflect the terms of the agreement.

The work of each and every Board member is greatly appreciated as well as our secretaries of Marty Cole and Carol Hook who share the part-time secretary position. Recently, Nelda Crowell agreed to coordinate the Oral Histories program. She will be asking others to join her as a committee to continue recording and transcribing oral histories of our older members and residents of the community. Laura Hirsch and Candy Shepard have consistently lead the effort to maintain and renew the Sahuaro Ranch rose garden. The Board strongly supports their successful effort. Diane Williams, Operations Manager, City of Glendale was recently promoted and is responsible for Sahuaro Ranch, Community Centers and the Glendale Civic Center operations. Diane is the primary contact with the city for Sahuaro Ranch.

2016 GAHS Budget HIGHLIGHTS

The Board of Directors approved the 2016 GAHS budget on January 5, 2016. The total budget is $44,130. About 68% or $30,000 income is anticipated from wedding facilitation. A membership of 136 provides $3,000 in dues with projected cash donations of $5,000 and grants of $5,000. Tour donations at the Guest House and Manistee Ranch are limited to $1,000. Expenses are dominated by salaries for part-time secretary, handyman and photo tech, telephone, cleaning, chair handlers, newsletter and insurance. An approved new line item establishes a Manistee Ranch Restoration Fund of $2,000 in the budget. It is critical that the Society keep Manistee Ranch house, office, garage and barn in excellent condition. This is an ongoing task due to age, storms and vandalism. The money will be used for major repairs. There is still a need to finish the re-roofing of Manistee Ranch house for $28,000. The Society welcomes any specific donation for Manistee Ranch restoration. Please write a check to Glendale Arizona Historical Society with a note for Manistee Ranch fund and send to GAHS, P.O. Box 5606, Glendale, AZ, 85312.

If you would like to view the detailed budget, contact your Society office at 623-435-0072.

William John Murphy

Glendale's Founding Father

W. J. Murphy

Mr. Merwin L. Murphy, Murphy's nephew, helped commemorate the deeding of Murphy Park in a ceremony held October 19, 1984 at Murphy Park. He pointed out several milestones his uncle was responsible for. W.J. came to the Valley in 1883 looking for grading contracts and contracted to build the 40 mile Arizona Canal starting in May 1883.

Murphy picked three locations that would be irrigated by the Arizona Canal for future town sites: Glendale, Ingleside (near Scottsdale) and Orangewood (on North Central Avenue). The land needed to be homesteaded to be claimed. W.J. persuaded friends and relatives to file on parcels. The limit was 640 acres at $1.25 per acre. He got control over an immense amount of land. Murphy started experiments with high yield crops. He built Grand Avenue in 1888, laid out five points to McDowell and 19th Avenue, persuaded Burgess A. Hadsell to bring his Brethren Colony to Glendale, filed a plat for a four section town site in 1892, and built the Beet Sugar Factory.

The Reclamation Service Control required no one individual or firm could hold water rights for more than 160 acres that stopped the sugar beet production and processing in 1912. Murphy helped to bring the Santa Fe railroad to Glendale in 1895, constructed the original Phoenix Street Railway and in 1911 the Phoenix-Glendale car line. Murphy never named a street or company after himself, but Glendale did name the park after W.J. Murphy.
